

Sex, Business, Raga'n'Roll

7.00 – 11.00 pm Thursday 25 March

Monsoon Indian Restaurant

92 High Street, Chatham, Kent ME4 4DS 01634 844488

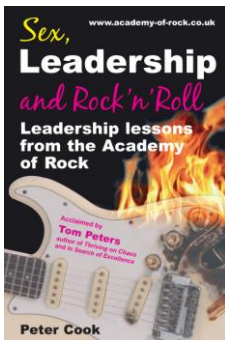

Monsoon has teamed up with celebrated author, business thinker and musician Peter Cook and Blues legend Les Miserable to serve up a sumptuous evening of Indian food, fun and frollicking. Following the huge success of our Chinese evening, we are proud to take you on a passage to India. This time we are ringing the changes:

Comic relief: Between courses, blues raconteur and linguistic sadist Les Miserable interviews Peter Cook about Sex, Business, Raga'n'Roll. Peter Cook will then interrogate Les about his bizarre career in Las Vegas, Las Palmas and Lost Property.

A feast fit for Kings and Queens: An Indian banquet – see the menu for details.

The three R's of Raga'n'Roll: Discover your inner Rolling Stone, Radiohead or Ravi Shankar or just watch from a safe distance as others try their hand at some spontaneous jamming. Bring your tablas if you wish to join in with our version of Postman Patel.

Peter is author of three books. His latest release, 'Sex, Leadership and Rock'n'Roll' is acclaimed by Tom Peters, THE top business guru in the World. Brian May, Sir Bob Geldof, Robert Plant, David Gilmour and Prince are amongst rock's elite to have received a copy. He was featured recently on BBC Radio 4's flagship 'In Business' programme

Price £27.00. Call us on 01634 855267 or peter@humdyn.co.uk to reserve your places at this special feast.
